

Dori Stiefel

she/her; [dow-ree stie-fel]

Dori has 25 years' experience serving not-for-profits, government, and industry to co-create organizational commitments, re-align organizations, and easily-produce outcomes. She has conducted extensive co-authored academic research on climate change adaptation, sustainability, human existential risk reduction, unintended consequences, and futures, all of which is published in journals as varied as Sustainability and Risk Analysis. She has also taught university entrepreneurship classes. Dori holds a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Political Science from the University of Tennessee (Knoxville, Tennessee); a Master of Science in Accounting from the University of Virginia (Charlottesville, Virginia); and a Bachelor of Arts in Mathematics from Mary Baldwin University (Staunton, Virginia).